

CertiPath Exec Presents at 2009 Smart Cards in Government

Addresses Best-Practices Identity Access & Management in Non-Federal Environments

Herndon, Va. (Oct. 29, 2009) —Jeff Nigriny, president of CertiPath, will participate in a panel presentation on non-federal uses of secure identification at the 8th annual Smart Cards in Government Conference.

With panelists from the Virginia Governor's Office of Commonwealth Preparedness, the Dept. of Homeland Security/Federal Emergency Management Agency and others, Nigriny will discuss innovation, issues and opportunities in overcoming the obstacles to a truly integrated Identity and Access Management model in both the public and private sector. As president of CertiPath, the Identity Management and secure collaboration authority, Nigriny brings real-world experience in architecting and deploying federated solutions that meet the growing need for trusted physical and logical access for multiple parties, including employees, customers, partners and others in commercial industries, including Aerospace and Defense.

WHO: Jeff Nigriny, President, CertiPath

WHAT: Government ID: Non-Federal Use of Secure ID

WHEN: Fri. Oct. 30, 2009 9:00 a.m. ET

WHERE: Smart Cards in Government 2009, Washington, D.C. Convention Center

###

About CertiPath

CertiPath provides the aerospace and defense industry's only public key infrastructure (PKI)-based communications bridge where information can be shared widely, securely, effectively and affordably between partners, suppliers and customers – regardless of the size and scope of the supply chain.

CertiPath's disruptive solution tears down the burdensome and costly company, employee and program-centric approaches to identity assurance. Today, organizations in the U.S., U.K. and Europe including Boeing, BAE Systems, EADS, Lockheed Martin, Northrop-Grumman, Raytheon and the U.S. Federal Bridge (FBCA) are members of this fast-growing community. For more information, visit CertiPath on the web at <http://www.certipath.com>

All product and company names herein may be trademarks of their registered owners.

CertiPath Company Contact:

Alison Kidd
(703) 793-7870
alison.kidd@certipath.com

Media Contact:

Rachel Round
(617) 969-9192
rround@corporateink.com